COMPTROLLER IN CHARGE.

SITUATION OF AFFAIRS AT THE FIDELITY BANK.

Harper and Hopkins Unable to Obtain Bond Are Locked Up in the County Jail. The Temporary Receiver Resigns—Mr. Trenholm Talks on the Subject.

CINCINNATI, June 25.—Failing to obtain bail Thursday night, Chief Deputy Marshal Rohrer took Harper and Hopkins to jail. Harper was accompanied by the only friend who has stuck to him in his hour of need, Al. Gahr, and Hopkins by his son. A pathetic incident occurred as the little party entered the jailer's office.

The choir of an adjoining church had assembled, and were practicing for a Sabbath service. The mournful cadence of the old hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee" floated out into the midnight air, and was the only sound that broke the silence. Even Harper, the merriest man in the party, partly gave up. Harper's voice faltered and trembled as he replied to a question, and it looked for a moment as if he would break down completely. He rallied quickly, however, and was soon sleeping soundly in a private room in the jailer's house. Hopkins paced the floor nearly all night, being unable to sleep.

The bondsmen of Ammi Baldwin, the bank cashier, did not surrender him, so he did not have to accompany the two others to jail.

Joseph Wilshire, the man who engineered the Chicago wheat deal, which caused the ruin, was arrested for aiding and abetting the bank officers in embezzling, abstracting and willfully misapplying the funds, moneys and credits of the bank. He gave bond when arraigned before Commissioner Hooper in the sum of $35,000, his sureties being J. M. Wayne, A. S. Winslow and George Hafer. Mr. George Wilshire declined to affix his signature to the bond. Mr. Wilshire seemed greatly depressed, and sat with downcast eyes.

When Comptroller Trenholm arrived, John R. DeCamp, the temporary receiver, resigned, as he could not give his entire time to the broken bank's affairs. Mr. Trenholm is in charge, and a permanent receiver will have to be appointed.

An active and systematic examination of the books is being made. Thus far it has shown that for the last ten days of its existence the bank had undergone a constant run. It has also shown that Mr. Harper had coolly made out for himself certificates of deposit to the extent of $700,000. Then, too, there was about $1,100,000 of his I. O. U.'s carried by the receiving teller as cash. In fact, everything in the bank that could be turned into money had been used. One of the remarkable facts brought to light is that all of this crookedness occurred within a month. Previous to that time the bank apparently had been run honestly.

A committee of creditors has called a meeting of all the depositors in the bank, to meet on Saturday.

The expert accountant, Mr. S. T. Williams, remarked to a reporter that it would take a month, possibly two months, to finish the investigation. Mr. Williams gave it as his opinion that, although the liabilities were tremendous and the assets small, the failure was not as terrible as people thought. The blow was a severe one, but he thought that depositors would realize something although the amount would be very small.

Why He Closed It.

CINCINNATI, June 25.—United States Comptroller Trenholm states that his attention was first directed to the Fidelity National bank early in April. In studying the statistics of the reserve fund under the law that banks in large cities shall carry 25 per cent. of deposits in reserve, he found that the Fidelity was reserve agent for eighty country banks, some located at points having no special relation to Cincinnati financially.

He inferred that this was because of some special inducements offered for such accounts. He quietly inquired, and learned of the former connection of some of the Fidelity's officers with the Third National. He therefore notified the examiner to keep a special watch on the Fidelity, but to do nothing that would tend to injure the business or standing of the bank. It had been examined in January and the report showed it in a sound and prosperous condition. On May 18 a statement was called for.

It showed about three millions on other banks, more than half the indebtedness, indicating a specialty in accounts of country banks, but a large amount of money in excess of legal requirements was also reported; the stock sold high; the directors included some of the sound business men of the city; the bank was about to double its capital, and the new stock was being subscribed at 130.

Though it was plain that any monetary stringency would imperil the bank, as country banks at such times draw their accounts very low, there was, as yet, very little attention given to the Chicago wheat deal, and no indication of connection there.

The first impression Mr. Trenholm had of such connection was derived from newspaper notices; but any diversion of funds from the bank to Chicago must have then taken place, and any interposition of the examiner might appear as an attempt to influence the speculation.

Printed circulars, anonymous letters and some signed communication were also received fitting on the Fidelity, but these were considered as a device of the people on the other side of the speculation, and action could not reasonably be taken on such information.

The first tangible evidence of the bank's connection with the Chicago wheat clique was received last Monday in a letter from the bank of Montreal, at Chicago, notifying the comptroller that $300,000 of the Fidelity's paper had been allowed to go to protest.

Mr. Trenholm immediately telegraphed Mr. Powell, the examiner, to act. The examiner's function is only to protect the property and preserve the accounts in the form in which they come into his hands. No liquidation can be begun until a receiver is appointed and has given satisfactory bond to the comptroller of the currency. Mr. DeCamp had been recommended for receiver, as had other Cincinnati men, but no receiver was appointed.

Mr. Trenholm says he has no connection with criminal prosecution of persons accused of violating the banking act; neither has his examiner, further than reporting criminalizing circumstances—facts supported by affidavit—to the United States district attorney. As to the liability of the directors of an insolvent bank, the lower courts have decided both ways, so that the lawyers are still very much at sea about it.

Mr. Trenholm declares that no formal application for an increase of stock of the Fidelity National bank was ever made and no authority ever given for such an increase. He judged from correspondence received that it was the intention of the officers to increase the stock.

A Failure in Springfield, Ohio.

SPRINGFIELD, O., June 25.—Whitely, Fessler & Kelly company, the proprietors of the large establishment of their kind in the world, have temporarily suspended and went into the hands of a receiver. This is the firm which owns the patents on the Champion mowers and reapers. It is understood that the collapse was caused by the funds all being deposited in the Fidelity bank of Cincinnati. A meeting of their creditors has been called for Tuesday. The works will continue in the hands of a receiver. Whitely says the failure was due to the small amount of banking capital compared with the enormous business done in Springfield, which gives business firms little opportunity for home assistance to raise funds for any unexpected calls made upon them. The stock of the company has never been on the market, although as high as $1,000 has been offered for a $100 share.

DISGRACEFUL PROCEEDINGS.

Two Women Indulge in a Bare Knuckle Prize Fight in Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, June 25.—Two Amazons named Mary Weidman and Mollie Dugan, settled a dispute in a room over a Fourth avenue saloon at a late hour last night, in a regulation bare-knuckle knock-out fight, lasting through four rounds, Marquis of Queensbury rules. Four men and two female friends of the combatants were the only witnesses. A referee was chosen and the warriors in calico came to the scratch with their sleeves rolled up over their elbows. At the call of time they went at it in fierce fashion. It was soon evident that Weidman had the most science, and she battered her opponent in a savage manner. Dugan was game, however, and in the second round started the claret from her antagonist's nose.

In the third round Weidman landed a terrific right-handed blow on Dugan's eye, discolored that optic and sending the recipient to the carpet. Both women were weak and decidedly groggy when time for the fourth round was called. After considerable clawing and reckless slugging, Weidman landed again on Dugan's eye with a straight arm blow, knocking her clear off her feet. The blow settled her and Weidman was declared the winner. It was some time before Dugan fully recovered, and her face presented quite a sorry sight. Weidman was also marked up considerably. Weidman has a grievance to settle with another female of the town, and a mill will probably be arranged between them.

Big Drop in Elevated Stock.

NEW YORK, June 25.—The stock of the Manhattan Elevated railroad was sold down at a rapid rate in the stock exchange this morning. It opened at 156 1/2 and went down at rapid jumps on almost every sale from the opening up to 11:30 o'clock. At that hour the decline amounted to thirty points. No cause could be assigned for the heavy decline except the withdrawal of support by the clique in the stock and the adverse report of the rapid transit commission on the proposed route of the company through the Battery yard by which continuous travel on the elevated roads from the east to the west side and vice versa without change of cars would be made possible. The rest of the list declined in sympathy.

Suicided on His Wife's Grave.

ERIE, Pa., June 25.—Charles Williams, of Corry, this county, blew out his brains last evening on his wife's grave. In his left hand was a note saying: "I here end a worthless life." The suicide was to have been married again, at the very hour he took his life, to Miss Bessie Prentice. News of the tragedy was taken to the brilliant party met to celebrate the wedding, where the bride was anxiously awaiting his coming. All the people directly interested are wealthy. Young Williams has been dissipating for several months past. His friends say he was being coerced into a distasteful marriage.

Policeman Killed.

PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—Last night while Policeman George Jackson was attempting to arrest "Eagle" McGlynn for disorderly conduct in Beach street, he was struck on the breast by a cobblestone thrown by Luke Fleury, one of McGlynn's companions. The officer fell senseless and the men escaped. Jackson was removed to a neighboring cigar store, where he died. Fleury, McGlynn and a man named Robert Taylor, who was also in the party, were arrested early this morning. They are all noted young rascals.

Colored Hunchback Hung.

ST. LOUIS, June 25.—Alfred Blunt, colored, was hanged in the jail yard at the Court House in this city at 6:30 this morning for the murder of his wife on June 21, 1886. Blunt was a hunchback and lived unhappily with his wife because of his jealousy. They had separated, but on the above date Blunt had induced her to go to their home in South St. Louis. Upon reaching the house they again quarreled and Blunt attacked her with a razor and following her into the yard, finished her with a hatchet.

Sheet-Iron Men Will Close Fight.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 25.—The sheet-iron manufacturers interested in the stamping and hollow-ware branch of the business held a meeting here yesterday to consider the new scale offered by the Amalgamated association. It was decided that it would be impossible to concede the advance asked for, and the mills would close down rather than grant it. One of the manufacturers said that the present scale should be lowered instead of increased, owing to the stagnated condition of the business.

WASHINGTON DISPATCHES

THE CROP PROSPECTS IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES.

Decidedly Discouraging to the Unfortunate Foreigners, But a Brilliant Opening For the American Markets—Southern Developments—Other News Notes.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The latest reports of the condition of European crops are not of a favorable character. The department of agriculture, as is well known, keeps its paid agents in all the European countries, and receives from them frequent reports of the condition of crops. Those just received are far from favorable in their tone. There is a marked absence of harvest promise throughout Europe, and nowhere is this more marked than in England.

The times have been out of joint since November, and the queen's jubilee found the average farmer in a despondent mood. Practically speaking, England has had no spring. As it stands to-day the harvest must be late and small. The same thing may be said with regard to the condition of the crops in France. The late reports of the French department of agriculture admit that the spring and winter wheat crops are badly off. The weather has been cool and the rain-soaked ground has not had the sunshine needed to push along the crops. Rye and barley are suffering, too, and so are the vineyards.

In Germany there is a similar complaint—frequent rains but cool weather and backward crops. In Austria-Hungary the crops suffered from hailstones and inundations. In Italy the weather has been exceptionally cold, and the crops are correspondingly backward. In Russia the weather has been a little more favorable, but in many cases the lack of good seed has made the crops poor. On the whole the outlook is for an increased demand in Europe for American grain next year.

The Tariff Kickers.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—There is probably no branch of the government service against which there is so much and so constant "kicking" as against the enforcement of the tariff laws. There seems to be a general opinion that there is no propriety in evading the payment of tariff if it is possible to do so. The result is that the mails arriving at the treasury department are burdened with complaints about the enforcement of the tariff law, and constant and determined efforts to evade it. Go into the room of the chief officer of the customs bureau any day and you will find upon a table, laid out for the benefit of the press or others who may desire to see them, a stack of decisions by the department in regard to customs cases. They are nine-tenths of them appeals by shippers against decisions of collectors.

Industry in the South.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Developments of the past few years in the portions of the southern states is noted here. The truck farming which was held in such contempt by the old cotton and sugar-growers of the south is proving a very profitable industry. The possibility of producing in the section bordering on the gulf all the vegetables and fruits for table use during the winter months, and having them ready for northern tables at a time of the year when they cannot be produced elsewhere, renders this a very profitable business. The possibility of getting $2 per dozen for cucumbers and early squashes, $2 per gallon for strawberries, $3 per barrel for onions and sweet potatoes, ten cents apiece for cabbage and three times that for cauliflower, $300 per acre on radishes and other articles in proportion has opened the eyes of the farmers of that section, and the increase in the number of market gardeners in the south has been quite as wonderful as the fortunes they are making.

Relief for the Money Market.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Secretary Fairchild said this afternoon that the reports received by him from New York did not indicate that the treasury would be called upon to interfere for the relief of the money market. Had such action proved necessary, he could have ordered the immediate payment of the interest due July 1 on 4 per cent. bonds, about $9,000,000, or the immediate redemption of the outstanding 3 per cent. bonds, $19,700,000. As far as he was informed the flurry is a speculative and artificial one, and only very incidentally due to a demand for money. As matters now appear he did not think the treasury could do anything.

Imported Bread for the French.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—A curious story comes to the department of agriculture from France. Recently the French tariff on wheat was put up; away up, for the protection of the farmers of that country. A curious result of this has been the importation of bread on which there is no tariff. The neighboring countries, especially Belgium, are shipping in bread in immense quantities, made from wheat on which no tariff is paid, and the trade is proving so profitable that preparations are being made by the Belgian bakers to extend their business in this line very greatly.

New York, June 25.—Secretary Shepherd, of the national rifle association, has received a letter from President Cleveland, enclosing a check for $25. This is the amount of the prize to be offered by the association at the second stage of the president's match at the rifle association's coming contest.

DR. M'GLYNN INTERVIEWED.

He Expresses His Opinion on His Summons to Rome.

BUFFALO, June 25.—Dr. McGlynn lectured here last night. In an interview he said that he had not been summoned to Rome in any regular way, but only by the secretary of Archbishop Corrigan. He could not now get to Rome within the specified time if he desired to. He added: "In the good old days of Galileo they could take a layman to Rome in chains for what they think I am guilty of. The Roman authorities will ultimately learn by bitter experience their own spiritual business at home and to interfere less with politics in Ireland, America and other countries, unless in the gravest cases of clear departure from the unquestioned dogmatic teachings of the church. The determination has been made in advance by Cardinal Simonet and the pope that they were not to confer with me, nor even try me, but to punish, humiliate and condemn me."

"Few know, as I do, the merciless and obstinate consistency of the Roman ecclesiastical machine in sticking to errors of policy and politics when they are in the interest and ambition of temporal power, even at the expense of sacrificing the facts and religions of whole nations, and opposing the most natural aspirations of the people for National development, scientific progress and National liberty. I am not so foolish or presumptuous as to suppose that arguments can diminish the stupidity, enlighten the gross ignorance or bend the obstinacy of that relentless machine. This can be done only by great providential changes that will break, crush and impoverish the Roman machine and reduce the Roman bishop to the simplicity of a Leo I."

"The Roman machine is anxious to have an accredited ambassador at Washington who would be in the Italian ring, and his presence would be a fruitful source of corruption and slavery to the Catholic church of this country. The policy of the church now is to toady to the proud and wealthy and kick the lowly in the mouth. At Rome they are laughing in their sleeves at us for our excessive submissiveness to their power and for our excessive generosity in contributing to the Peter's pence to the support of the whole army of lackeys and flunkies, both lay and clerical, who surround the pope with a barbaric pomp scarcely equalled by that of any imperial despotism court."

Bank Cashier Killed.

PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—Joseph B. Wiswell, cashier of the Bank of America, this city, was struck by a train on the Philadelphia & Reading railroad at Wayne Junction this morning, and sustained injuries which resulted in his death. Mr. Wiswell attempted to board a moving train for the city. Instead of gaining a foothold on the steps he was struck in the breast and thrown some distance on the station platform. When picked up he was unconscious, and died half an hour after being removed to his home.

Unfortunate Family.

LONG VIEW, Tex., June 25.—A shocking accident occurred on Wednesday near Laguna Chapel, eight miles from here. Frank McIntyre, a young negro about sixteen years old, was handling his gun, when it was accidentally discharged, the lead blowing half the head off from an infant sister that his mother was nursing and wounding his mother in the left breast and shoulder. An additional element of horror was lent by the fact that the day before the father died suddenly.

Wheelock Acquitted.

CLEVELAND, O., June 25.—Benjamin Wheelock, who has been on trial here for the past week, charged with murdering his aged wife on the night of December 12, 1886, was this morning acquitted of the crime. The judge's charge to the jury was favorable to Wheelock and after being out fifteen minutes that body returned a verdict of not guilty. This leaves the mystery surrounding the case as deep as ever, as no light whatever was thrown upon it during the trial.

Story Denied.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—John D. Spreckles & Bros., sugar merchants and proprietors of the Oceanic Steamship company, refute the statement made by H. A. P. Carter, the Hawaiian minister to Washington, that the recent shipments of arms to Hawaiian was consigned to their agents there. They give a list of the consignees alleged to be importing firearms among them being that of C. Brewer & Co., of which the Hawaiian minister is said to be a member.

Dr. McGlynn in Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 25.—Dr. McGlynn arrived in Chicago to-day and will hold an informal reception to-morrow afternoon at the Tremont house. The committee in charge of the picnic that is to be held anticipate that it will be a grand success. Dr. Thomas will introduce Dr. McGlynn as the orator of the occasion. It is not probable that Mr. Powderly will be present as no definite answer has yet been received to the invitation extended to him.

Destitute and Demented.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—Anna J. Butterfield, who is supposed by some to be the missing Mrs. Brooks, of Michigan, has been found in this city. If she received any money at Denver, as reported, she has lost it, as she is now destitute and appears to be demented.

College Burned.

AUBURN, Ala., June 25.—A fire this morning destroyed the Agricultural and Mechanical college of Alabama. The college was founded by the state in 1873 and was the largest and most valuable institution of its kind in the south. The loss will be very heavy.

Kentuckians Killed in Wyoming.

HARRODSBURG, Ky., June 25.—A dispatch from Laramie, W. T., states that Richard Gallagher was killed in a fight with Add Moore yesterday. Both were natives of this city and were employed on the ranch of Hon. Dan L. Moore, of Laramie.

Reversal of the Exile Law.

NEW YORK, June 25.—The supreme court, general term, has reversed the decision against Hotelkeepers Breslin and Vilas in the Sunday excise test case, and they have been discharged. The order of reversal is by Judge Lawrence.

DRIVEN DESPERATE.

Such Was the State of Affairs in Rowan County, but the Law Must Now be Upheld.

Lives, Homes and Happiness against Deviltry, Terrorism and Outlawry.

SCATTEAING SHOTS.

The Lexington Daily Press has had a correspondent at Morehead. In an interview with Boone Logan, one of the Sheriff's posse who killed Craig Tolliver and three of his followers, on June 22nd. Logan said:

"Yes, sir, acting under the authority of the law and the expressed wish of Governor Knott this has occurred. It was not the intention of our posse to harm a hair of their heads. But as they resisted, we killed them. It was our lives, happiness, homes and firesides against deviltry, terrorism and outlawry. We will let no guilty man escape; if necessary, we will exterminate them root and branch. We will follow them to the end of the world. Pursue them until we make them honest men or dead bodies; we will uphold the law, obey the law and regulate for the future the conduct of this county. We will appoint and elect officers capable of fulfilling the duties of honest, efficient, law-abiding people. If we cannot gain this rightful end by means of peaceful arbitration, we shall do so by our own strong right arms. We intend to protect our wives, our property and homes. If peaceful means will not accomplish this, we will hang, draw and quarter them and hang them up in the sun to dry. We have done a service to Rowan County Morehead and the State. It was not our intention to begin a fight at all, but at eight o'clock those devils fired on one of our men and the fight, though premature, was desperate from beginning to end, and we exterminated them. There is one man we want to bring to justice. He and his sons, too. Taylor Young, I mean. He will get it to a certainty, and it is best for him and his family that he keeps away from here."

The Sheriff's posse are still searching for those of the Tolliver gang, who escaped Wednesday. Wiley Tolliver has been notified that he is wanted and that he must make no resistance to the arrest.

Cayt Tolliver, aged twelve, fought bravely for his relatives. On account of his youth he has been permitted to go to his home on condition that he returns when wanted.

Cal Tolliver escaped by concealing himself under a house. He was badly wounded.

Over nine hundred bullets struck the American Hotel, Central Hotel and a few other buildings.

Hiram Cooper concealed himself in a wardrobe in Allie Young's former room at the Central Hotel. He was dragged from his hiding place and shot.

Howard Logan returned to Morehead

Dave Martin has returned from Kansas, where he fled two or three years ago. He is a brother of the Martin sisters, and was driven from home when the Tollivers killed Ben Rayburn.

A dispatch to Lexington Press from Mt. Sterling says: "Allie Young, who arrived Thursday from Kansas, was immediately arrested on his arrival. He was held on a telegram from Morehead and jailed on the charge of murder. The reason of the arrest is that Allie Young is thought to have forced Craig Tolliver to issue the warrant for the arrest of the young Logans, who were brutally killed a few days ago, and therefore is to be tried for murder in the first degree."

The Cincinnati Enquirer's correspondent says: "One thing that must be remarked about this uprising is that those who engaged in it belonged to both political parties. Democrats and Republicans united in ridding the community of what they believed to be a wretched tyranny, as oppressive as it was brutal."

The following is a list of the Tolliverites whom the Sheriff and his posse wanted: Craig Tolliver, Bunk Mannin, Jay Tolliver, Tom Allen Day, Bud Tolliver, John Rogers, Cal Tolliver, Jim Mannin, Andy Tolliver, Sam Goodin, Hiram Cooper, Z. T. Young, Jr., A. W. Young, Boone Day, Bill Day, Sam. Goodin.

Four of these were killed, seven escaped and five were absent at the time of raid.

William and Henry Ramey have taken their families and gone to Wisconsin. Henry Ramey took some part in the killing of the Logan boys a few weeks ago.

The two Mannins who escaped are thought to have crossed the river at Ashland.

It has been learned that one of the fleeing Tolliverites crossed the river here about 4 o'clock Thursday morning. His name has not been learned. He was heavily armed.

The correspondent of the Louisville Commercial says: "Every man of the Regulars—for they are called such at Morehead—was reputable. There was not a drunken man in the whole party. They were cool, but determined and used the guns with fatal aim, and obeyed orders like soldiers."

The name of Colonel Z. T. Young has been mentioned in connection with the troubles in Rowan County. In an interview Thursday with the Louisville Post's correspondent, Col. Young said: "I have been numerous threatened and understand that now another warrant has been served out against me. I shall not go there except under protest, as I am satisfied that I would not be permitted to return alive did I do so."

"Death stares me in the face at Morehead from the Logan faction though I have nothing to retract from the course I pursued there. I deny emphatically knowing anything of the contemplated arrest of the Logan boys until I learned of their being killed, June 4th. I only want a fair hearing and demand nothing else, and have always asked it to prove my innocence of all charges against me there."

A LARGE double frame shanty at Lawrence Creek (Moran's Camp) was destroyed by fire yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. The railroad men who were occupying it, lost all their bedding and clothes.

Small Blaze at the Cotton Factory.

The alarm of fire at 8 o'clock this morning was caused by a small blaze at the cotton factory, in what is known as the "lapper-room." The flames were caused, it is thought, by a piece of metal passing through some part of the machinery. The fire was extinguished with but little trouble. Damages slight and caused principally by the water.

AMBITION OF THE POPE.

QUIETLY FURTHERING THE SCHEME MOST DEAREST TO HIS HEART.

Trying to Secure Territory Over Which He Shall Be Recognized as Absolute Temporal Sovereign—The Geneste Has a Walkover in the Jubilee Yacht Race.

LONDON, June 25.—The pope is quietly but assiduously furthering the scheme dearest to his heart, which has for its object the recognition of the Vatican and Italian government on a basis involving the surrender to the pope of certain territory over which he shall be recognized as absolute temporal sovereign. The proposal at first thought seems to transcend the extreme limit of assurance and to convey the most visionary conceptions of its author, but carefully considered it is not as apocryphal as it may appear, though the impression as to its audacity is not so easily removed. The term reconciliation used to define the ends sought by the Vatican is by no means employed in its literal sense.

To the pope it means that he will try to reconcile himself to the possession of as much of King Humbert's territory as he can get in default of obtaining it all, and to the king of Italy it implies that he must endeavor to become reconciled to the loss of a portion of his dominions without receiving even an uncertain compensating advantage, and thank his stars that he didn't lose more. The scheme as proposed by the Vatican is wholly a juggle of affairs, and yet the pope is likely to accomplish his object. While the pope has everything to gain and nothing to lose, Italy has nothing to gain, though she may not lose much. There is no earthly reason why Italy should desire a "reconciliation" with the Vatican. In view of what King Victor Emmanuel might have done, but didn't do, in 1870-71, and the provocation that his son has since received and ignored, which many another sovereign might have taken advantage of to make the pope an actual prisoner instead of the pretended one that he is, the Vatican should not find it very hard to reconcile itself to its present very favorable situation.

But the present pope, unquestionably the greatest diplomatist in Europe, which comprehends the world of diplomacy, has had a taste of victory in his negotiations with Prince Bismarck, and like Alexander seeks more worlds to conquer. Already he has taken advantage of the Irish question to convince England of the desirability of re-establishing official relations with the church; he has conquered the prejudices of almost atheistic France, and is fast winning her back to friendship and co-operation; he has by timely communication with the czar retained and strengthened the moral support of Russia, and his eminence among the crowned heads of the world is recognized, and his great abilities respected and admired even by the sultan of Turkey. The scheme of the pope's ambition is to restore a vestige of the temporal power of the head of the church, to be able to scatter nuncios broadcast, and in return receive ambassadors.

The territory he demands to environ his toy court may be large in area, but the acreage he would be content to receive and give therefor a receipt in full is comparatively small, so small indeed that Italy solicited by the Vatican, and influenced by England, Germany, France and Russia, as the pope intends she shall be, will not long hesitate to relinquish it. Though the undertaking entered into by the pope to increase the prestige of the church and extend his own worldly power may appear to be a colossal one, he will surely accomplish it and the sooner this fact is recognized by King Humbert, if he does not already realize it, the more easily and gracefully he will be enabled to meet the inevitable.

The Geneste Ahead.

LONDON, June 25.—The yacht Geneste, one of the participants in the jubilee races passed the Lizard to-day, nearly two days in advance of the other contestants. She was making good time under closely reefed sails. The weather is clear, but a rough sea is running and strong head winds prevail.

OVER THE BORDER LINE.

How a Defaulter Was Taken Out of Canada Without a Requisition.

MONTREAL, June 25.—Some two years ago a young man, A. C. Lange, who had unceremoniously departed from the employ of L. G. Maron, of Muskegon, Mich., with some $30,000 of his employer's money, came to this city. It was thought he had gone to Colorado, and search for him proved unavailing. Later on the matter was placed in the hands of Detective Kellert. He learned that Lange was in Montreal, where he had obtained employment in the firm of MacIntosh & Co., of the Vulcan Iron works. Kellert kept a sharp eye on the defaulter, and obtaining the confidence of his employers ascertained that it was proposed to dispatch Lange to Coaticook on business, and owing to the fact that Coaticook is only ten miles from the frontier, and Kellert determined to get his man over the line.

It was necessary to obtain the presence of the defaulter in the states, as the offense was not an extraditable one. This was accomplished without difficulty. Lange was informed on arriving at Coaticook that Mr. Todd, the man he was looking for, was out fishing, and a man who represented himself as belonging to the hotel, offered to drive him out to the place. The plan had been carefully prepared and Lange and his friend, Kellert's man, were quickly driven over the line. Here Lange found a surprise party awaiting him, consisting of the sheriff and Mat Pinkerton, Mr. Todd and Detective Kellert. Lange expressed regret at his want of geographical knowledge, to which he attributed his capture. He was taken to Island Pond, where he will await the action of the Michigan authorities.

Central Traffic Association.

CHICAGO, June 25.—The Central Traffic association, at its meeting here, considered the question of the Wabash, St. Louis & Pacific railroad's reduced tariff, and adopted a resolution requesting the trunk line committee to take such action at its next meeting as will prevent the demoralization of rates that must follow the continuance of the unauthorized cut made by the Wabash. After the meeting it was estimated that the Wabash would withdraw its cheap tariff in a few days. During the meeting it was learned that James Smith had resigned the position of general traffic manager of the Wabash because General Manager Talmage insisted on the enforcement of the new tariff. Subsequently Mr. Smith verified this report, saying that his resignation had been accepted to take effect July 1. Mr. Smith says he will rest a month or two.

Alleged Presidential Trip.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—It is stated here that Mrs. Cleveland will precede the president on his intended western trip, going first to Madison, Wis., where she will visit the family of Postmaster General Vilas. The president will visit his wife there in the second week in September, and together they will visit Detroit, Jackson, Grand Rapids, Chicago, St. Louis, the Twin Cities and the Pacific Coast.

Hollings-Mill Destroyed.

WATERTOWN, Wis., June 25.—At 11:30 o'clock last night fire broke out in the rolling-mills of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway here. The entire plant was destroyed, entailing a loss of $150,000 and throwing about two hundred men out of employment. The carpenter and blacksmith shops were also threatened with destruction.

Plumbers Elect Officers.

CHICAGO, June 25.—The Plumbers' National convention elected officers for the ensuing year as follows: John Byrnes, of New York, president, and John Trainer, of Baltimore, vice president; Mortimer J. Lyons, of Brooklyn, re-elected treasurer, and Enoch Remick, of Philadelphia, re-elected financial secretary. David J. Collins, of St. Louis, was again chosen sergeant-at-arms, and it was decided to hold the next annual convention at Boston.

Dividing Coal Tonnage.

PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—Beginning with this week, the Reading, Pa., railroad companies will divide anthracite tonnage in the Schuylkill valley. The former will deliver to the latter 500,000 tons of coal at a point near Pottsville, which is to be hauled at the regular toll rate for the Reading. This will yield the Pennsylvania company about sufficient money to meet the fixed charges on the Schuylkill valley branch.

Chicago Banks All Right.

CHICAGO, June 25.—If there has been any doubt seriously entertained of the solidity of the Chicago banks, individually or as a whole, that doubt was removed to-day. The fact that July wheat opened at 70 5/8 was a sure indication of confidence restored. Stockholders of the American Exchange bank will submit to an assessment to make good the $298,000 worthless Fidelity paper.

Panicky Stock Market in Montreal.

MONTREAL, June 25.—The stock market has been panicky this morning because of the suspension of McIver & Barclay, who have been "long" of the leading stocks, principally Montreal telegraph and the Bank of Montreal. There losses are said to be about $200,000, but their liabilities to the stock exchange is small.

Jay Gould Not Dead.

NEW YORK, June 25.—Mr. George Gould was called upon by a reporter of the United Press at his office to-day in reference to the persistent circulation of reports in regard to his father's death. He said: "I look rather cheerful for an alleged orphan, don't I? My father is just as well as ever he was in his life."

A Priest's Sudden Death.

MANSFIELD, O., June 25.—Rev. John Quincy Adams, a Catholic priest, who arrived in this city yesterday on a visit from Franklin, Pa., died suddenly at the residence of D. McGee, of apoplexy, at 8:30 o'clock yesterday evening.

General Freight Agents.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., June 25.—The general freight agents' convention took no action on wool classification, and transacted no business of general importance. The convention adjourned to meet at St. Louis in November.
